TIME TO ACT.

Catholics Have Every Right to Representation on Library Board.

Concerted Action All That Is Necessary to Secure Justice.

People Have Awakened to Demoralized Condition of Police Force.

STREETS ARE IN A BAD SHAPE.

Next month Mayor Grinstead will be called upon to name four members of the Louisville Library Board, and it is to be presumed that he will name representative citizens. For some reason the Library Board has never had a Catholic member. Why? Are there not many Catholics in Louisville who are representative citizens? In the ranks of law and medicine, in the busy marts of trade, and among local capitalists of industry, to say nothing of the pulpit, have we not many scholarly Catholics? It is about time that Louisville had representation on the Library Board. This is no time to plead for preferential treatment. The demand is just. Out of a population of 260,000 people there are more than 60,000 Catholics in Louisville. The Catholics have to pay taxes for the maintenance of that library, and are of course entitled to all the privileges of other taxpayers, but thus far they are without any representation on the governing board. Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians and Hebrews are all represented. This is as it should be, but why not at least one Catholic out of thirteen men?

The present board is made up of Mayor James F. Grinstead, ex-officio President; Col. Homer H. Young, Vice President; John Stites, Treasurer; R. W. Brown, Secretary; Alfred Brandies, Owen Tyler, C. A. Mayor, R. P. Halleck, Rev. E. L. Powell, Arthur G. Langham, Rev. E. Y. Mullins, A. M. Rutledge and Prof. W. H. Bartholomew, who was appointed to fill out the expired term of the late Nathan M. Uri.

These are all intelligent and representative citizens, but none of them are Catholics. The terms of Messrs. Stites, Brandies, Bartholomew and Brandry expire next month. It has been semi-officially announced that Mayor Grinstead will appoint Mr. Bartholomew for the long term. Who are to get the other places?

Can not the Catholics of Louisville make a united effort to secure representation on this board? If they do not assert their rights the fault is theirs. If they assert their rights and are refused the fault will be with the city administration.

Of all the daily papers in Louisville the Evening Post is the only one that has not confessed that the Louisville police force is demoralized. The Kentucky Irish American pointed out this fact over a year ago. By degrees the dailies took up the matter, and now in every issue of the morning or afternoon journals you find more instances of demoralization. Not satisfied with the poor showing of the men now on the force, it is announced that fifteen more patrolmen and four detectives are to be put on April 1. Is that an April fool joke?

Did the police detect and arrest the masked men who held up and robbed W. J. Price, Superintendent of the Union Ice Cream Company, in his place of business, at 441 Eighth street, last Saturday? What was the result of the attempted investigation? Nothing more than another wrecked automobile and a few spilled detectives?

In broad daylight Monday morning a negro entered the residence of Philip G. Rueff, 1004 East Jefferson street, knocked Mrs. Rueff in the head, ransacked the house and carried away $8. The police were an hour late on the job—didn't know it was urgent. That the thief overlooked Mrs. Rueff's diamonds and a purse containing $30 was due more to the carelessness of the thief than the vigilance of the police.

A black burglar invaded the premises of a Republican Deputy Assessor and was shot at by that official instead of being captured by the police. Down at Central Police Station Capt. Plan is worrying over a kidnapping case. Early Sunday the police raided a place where the kid was reputed to be off. Somebody stole "the evidence" right out of the beer cases in Central Station.

Then, again, one finds that negroes have gotten into the habit of walking out of the prisoners' cage in the Police Court. One negro got away Tuesday. Two others followed suit on Wednesday. No trace of them was found.

What about the streets? Is the Board of Public Works keeping them in repair? Last Saturday morning when the No. 3 Hook and Ladder Company was answering an alarm of fire the truck encountered a hole on Fischer street, and Eugene Sullivan, a ladderman, was thrown from the truck with such violence that he will be incapacitated for several weeks. That hole in the street has existed for two years and the Board of Works has made no attempt to remedy the matter.

MOBILE'S BISHOP HOME.

The Right Rev. Edward P. Allen, D. D., Bishop of Mobile, has returned to his diocese after an absence of several months, during which he visited the Holy Land and Rome. Since his return last week he has been received with ovations in every part of the diocese he has visited.

KINDLY COMMENT

County Board, A. O. H., Shows Appreciation for Humble Efforts.

Editor Kentucky Irish American: At a special meeting of the County Board, A. O. H., held Sunday, March 21, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in view of the able and magnificent manner in which the press notices of the annual banquet held at the Galt House on March 17 was presented to the readers of the Kentucky Irish American, we hereby tender to the management our sincere and grateful thanks, and will support and patronize in every possible way your very excellent newspaper.

We remain, yours fraternally, George J. Butler, State President; P. J. Welsh, County President; Joseph J. Lynch, County Vice President; Ed Keiran, Recording Secretary; Thomas Keenan, Jr., Financial Secretary; D. J. Coleman, County Treasurer.

FOR CONGRESS

Hon. La Vega Clements Is Candidate for Democratic Nomination.

Hon. La Vega Clements, of Owensboro, is an avowed candidate for Congress from the Second district, subject, of course, to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Clements is a native of Kentucky, and is a Democrat. He is a member of the Democratic nomination. The incumbent is A. Owsley Stanley, of Henderson county.

Mr. Clements is one of the best known lawyers and ablest orators in Western Kentucky. He is serving his second term as State President of the Y. M. C. A., Kentucky jurisdiction, and is also prominent in Knights of Columbus circles. Mr. Clements has many friends in Louisville, who will be glad to hear of his political preference.

NEWEST HEROINE

Miss Edmonia Dougherty to be Rewarded for Fidelity.

Fire chiefs and firemen are paid to go into places of danger when fire is raging, but a telephone operator is supposed to stay away from danger. At the first indication of trouble Miss Edmonia Dougherty, a resident of Jeffersonville, and the chief operator at the Illinois Central Union Depot, at Seventh and the river, is the latest heroine.

It develops that after the discovery of the fire in the depot last week Miss Dougherty remained at her post in an endeavor to call the fire department, and only left her place when the flames had surrounded her. The officers of the I. C. have intimated to Miss Dougherty that a vacation is coming to her, that she can go where she pleases and that the railroad company will stand all expenses.

MANY MOURN

The Untimely Taking Off of Former Detective Tom Connell.

Thomas Connell, one of the bravest and most efficient men that ever served on the Louisville police force, died at the family residence, 1327 West Walnut street, on Tuesday night after an illness of three months. The deceased was fifty-four years old and had spent all his life in Louisville. Death resulted from a complication of diseases.

A quarter of a century ago Tom Connell, as he was familiarly known, served as Deputy Marshal of the Police Court, and a few years later, was appointed patrolman. His conduct, during and efficiency earned him promotion to the detective bureau, where he became known as one of the best chief-takers in the country. A change in city administrations caused him to be sent back to a beat. A year ago he retired from the police force to become a special agent for the Louisville Railway Company. Mr. Connell was a member of the Heptasophis. His wife and a son, Philip Connell, fifteen years old, survive him.

The funeral took place from the Cathedral of the Assumption yesterday morning and was attended by hundreds of his old friends and comrades. Tom Connell was a diamond in the rough, and yet as gentle as a woman to those who knew him and appreciated his worth.

O'BRIEN RETAINED.

Secretary of State Philander C. Knox, with the full approval of President Taft, has decided to retain Hon. Thomas J. O'Brien, of Michigan, as Ambassador to Japan. Mr. O'Brien was appointed to this important post two years ago, and has proven an able diplomat. Aside from the fact that he is an Irish-American the appointment of Ambassador O'Brien has a peculiar interest for Kentuckians, because he is an uncle of Mrs. R. T. Lightfoot, of Paducah, Ky., wife of the McCracken county Judge.

CATHOLIC WOMAN'S CLUB.

The Catholic Woman's Club is preparing to give an attractive entertainment on Easter Monday, and to enhance the plans already made, Mrs. D. P. Murphy has called a special meeting of the Membership Committee for 8:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, March 23.

ANNUAL

Commencement Exercises of Notre Dame Academy to be in June.

Noted Men Will Deliver Able Addresses During the Week.

Lecture Medal This Year Will Go to Distinguished Southern Woman.

GREAT HONOR IS WORTHILY WON

The University of Notre Dame, the greatest Catholic institution of learning in the Central West, will hold its annual commencement exercises during the week beginning Sunday, June 13, and the final celebration will be on the evening of Thursday, June 17. On June 13 the Rev. Father T. C. O'Reilly, D. D., of Cleveland, Ohio, will preach the baccalaureate sermon. On the following Wednesday the Hon. Thomas R. Carter, United States Senator from Montana, will deliver the commencement address, and on the same day the bachelorette orations will be given by the "Triology," or "The Child," "The Child in the Shop" is the subject assigned to Ignatius E. McNamee, of Oregon. Francis C. Walker, of Montana, will have "The Child in Court," and Richard J. Collette, of Wisconsin, "The Child in School." The degrees will be conferred on all Thursday. Harry Ladwig will read the class poem and John B. Kaulsky, of New York, will deliver the valedictory. According to the usual custom the university will confer the degree of Doctor of Laws on the baccalaureate preacher and convention orator.

Last Sunday the President of the university, the Very Rev. Father John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., announced from the pulpit that the Lecture medal this year would be conferred upon Mrs. Frances Christine Fisher Tiernan, a Catholic novelist whose pen name is Christine Reid. Mrs. Tiernan has written forty novels of recognized merit, and she is the first person in the South to receive the distinguished honor of the Lecture medal.

The gift of the Lecture medal is confined to lay members of the Catholic church in the United States. It is a large disk of pure gold beautifully engraved and chased, and bears some appropriate design in relief, which varies from year to year and which is suited to the profession or line of work in which the recipient has earned distinction. Around the border surrounding the design appears in Latin the motto, "Truth is mighty and shall prevail." A handsome address beautifully printed in water color on silk accompanies the medal. The address is of high artistic value and is always the work of some noted artist.

Since its institution in 1883 the medal has been awarded to many distinguished persons. Patrick J. Keely, the architect and builder of many churches; Eliza Allen Starr, artist; Gen. John A. Johnston, civil engineer; Patrick V. Healey, editor; Anna Hanson Dorsey, author; William J. O'Connell, publisher; Daniel Dougherty, orator and publisher; Major Henry F. Brownson, soldier and scholar; Patrick Donohue, editor and philanthropist; Alexander D. Macdonald, manager; Anna T. Sullivan, author; Gen. William S. Rosecrans, soldier; Thomas Addis Emmet, physician; Timothy E. Howard, jurist; John A. Creighton, philanthropist; Hon. William Bourke Cockran, lawyer and statesman; Dr. A. B. Murphy, surgeon; Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, merchant and philanthropist; Dr. Francis Quinlan, surgeon; Katherine Eleanor Conway, author and editor; James C. Monaghan, publisher and educator.

Mrs. Tiernan was born in Salisbury, N. C., in 1816, and still lives in that town. She was the daughter of Col. Charles F. Fisher, who was killed at the battle of Bull Run. Literary critics pronounce her style singularly pure, the language of the Lecture medal will meet approval everywhere, especially in the South, where Mrs. Tiernan is admired and loved.

DEATH OF ERNEST C. BOHNE.

The community has lost a representative member by the death of Ernest C. Bohne, Vice President of the Southern National Bank. Although a native of Germany he was a thorough American and for fifty-three years had been identified with the business interests of Louisville. While a man of culture and refinement he was thoroughly alive to the interests of the poor and down-trodden. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Henry Schimpeler, Charles O. Philip J. F. W. and Ernest F. Bohne. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, and a large concourse of old friends followed the remains to their resting place in Cave Hill cemetery.

HIBERNIAN BALL.

The Hibernian ball to be given at the Galt House Tuesday evening, April 13, under the auspices of Division 1 and the Ladies' Auxiliary is taking like wildfire with the Irish population of Louisville. The committees are being congratulated on all sides and the success of the affair is assured. In the East, where the Hibernians are very strong, the Hibernian ball is an annual affair. Division 1, being the oldest division in this city, interested the Ladies' Auxiliary in establishing the custom here. The large dining hall of the Galt House will be handsomely decorated for the occasion.

AMERICAN GIRL

Said to Have Signed Antenuptial Agreement With Count.

Miss Muriel White, daughter of the American Ambassador to France, is about to marry a foreign title, if the press dispatches are to be believed. Cablegrams say the fair American is to marry Count Scherr-Thoss. The Paris correspondent of the New York World apparently thinks he has discovered something new in that Miss White has made an antenuptial agreement with her prospective husband to raise any children she may have in the Catholic Church. The cable message in full reads: "Muriel White's confident and counsellor while she was being wooed by Count Scherr-Thoss was Countess de Montsaulin. The Countess, who is said to be Miss Muriel's aunt, was Ann E. M. Zborowski, a sister of the late Elliott Zborowski, and a niece of Mrs. Martin E. Greene, of 65 East Seventy-second street, New York.

"Recently Miss White spent a month with the Countess on the Riviera and at that time all matters relating to or bearing upon the wedding were talked over. Count Scherr-Thoss, a Silesian nobleman, is a Catholic; so is Countess de Montsaulin. It was agreed between the lovers that the wedding shall be a religious ceremony and take place in a Catholic church. It was further agreed that if children are born they shall be brought up in the Catholic faith.

"Countess de Montsaulin counselled Miss White to accept those conditions. Otherwise the marriage would not have been possible, for the Scherr-Thoss family, very prominent among the Silesian Catholics, would not have countenanced a union without a Papal dispensation, which could never have been obtained, except in Latin lands.

It is hardly possible that Miss White will be married in a Catholic church, and she could not be married by a Catholic priest at all had she not agreed to raise her children in the Catholic faith. The laws of the church on this subject are identical for rich and poor.

ANNUAL REUNION

Of Patrons of the Catholic Summer School Close At Hand.

Catholics of the Empire State are preparing for the annual reunion of patrons and other friends of the Champlain Assembly at Cliff Haven, popularly known as the Catholic Summer School, which takes place on April 16 at the Waldorf-Astoria. Arrangements have been made to accommodate a large number of church players and musicians. A band will be made for those who prefer to play bridge whist. Many valuable prizes have been donated, and will be given to non-players as well as to those who participate in the card playing. The Summer School is an educational institution, chartered by the Regents of the State of New York. While it is not, strictly speaking, a charitable institution, yet it has no fixed income and depends on its patrons for its support. The proceeds derived from reunions are used in meeting the expenses of maintenance and in making the improvements necessary for the conveniences and accommodation of the large number of persons who each summer spend some time at Cliff Haven.

PLAY BALL, THAT'S ALL.

Putnam, Quinlan and Harley joined the Louisville ball team this week, and the make up of the Colonels is said to be complete. The Philadelphia American team will play a practice game with the best of the Colonels tomorrow afternoon at Eclipse Park, and those anxious to see the locals tried out will have a fair opportunity if the weather is propitious. The Louisville fans, as much as they hated to lose Jimmy Burke, are disposed to give Healy a trial as Captain Manager. Healy has made good here as a catcher, and if he shows ability as manager the fans will find nothing too good for him.

K. C. IN CUBA.

The first council of the Knights of Columbus on the island of Cuba will be instituted in the city of Havana tomorrow, and the three degrees will be put on by the team from the council at Mobile, Ala. A score or more of the members of that council and their ladies will make the trip. The councils at New Orleans and Jacksonville, Fla., will also be well represented. The American delegation will remain in Cuba four days. Sixty-two of the leading business and professional men are to receive the three degrees.

GENEROUS TO IRISH.

The faithful of the archdiocese of Dublin contributed $10,000 to the earthquake sufferers of Sicily and Southern Italy. When Archbishop Walsh forwarded the money to Pope Pius he called the Holy Father's attention to the disasters caused by bogslides in the West of Ireland. Pope Pius X. promptly returned $2,000 of the money to Archbishop Walsh, who at once forwarded it to Archbishop Healy, of Tuam, for the relief of the sufferers in his archdiocese.

SUSTAINED BROKEN ARM.

Joe Wernert, the popular moon-keeper at Logan and Broadway, accidentally fell into the sewer excavation in front of his place of business Thursday afternoon of last week and sustained a broken arm and other injuries. To the gratification of his friends Mr. Wernert is recovering rapidly, and will soon be able to attend to business.

SANDUSKY'S

The Sons and Daughters of Erin Right Royally Paid Honor.

Musical and Literary Exercises Were All Distinctively Irish.

Former Louisville Priest Enalozed Hibernian's Sainted Apostle.

BRIGHT AND BREEZY LETTER

A resident of Sandusky, Ohio, and a constant reader of the Kentucky Irish American, has sent us the following interesting communication regarding the celebration of March 17 at Sandusky. It shows that the Irish north of the Ohio river are either more numerous or more aggressive than in Kentucky, and every Irishman ought to peruse the story with interest.

St. Patrick's day—a day that never dies and is always dear to the Irish race. Its annual observance turns a link of golden memories that connects with the past and keeps green in our hearts the love for Ireland and her saintly apostle. The Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary of Sandusky endeavored to make March 17, 1909, memorable, a day not soon to be forgotten by the citizens. In the evening an excellent supper was served by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary in the commodious dining apartment of the new and splendid St. Peter and Paul parish hall. The supper began at 5 o'clock and many hungry ones were fed from seven until 7:30 o'clock, when the doors of the spacious and magnificently equipped auditorium were thrown open to the general public.

The musical and literary features of the evening were distinctively Irish and reflected credit on James A. Dempsey, Chairman of the A. O. H. Entertainment Committee. A very pleasant feature was the vocal chorus, "The Dear Little Shamrock," sung by small school girls, who wore bonnets, and who were arranged to represent the leaf of a shamrock, while in the center, stem-like, stood a small boy bearing a green cross in each hand and with arms crossed on his breast. The effect was beautiful and the feature was duly applauded by the large audience that packed the hall. Next came a series of Irish songs on the corner by Eugene B. Akeley, leader of the Akeley band and orchestra. This was followed by recitations and vocal and instrumental music. All received their need of applause.

The chief feature of the evening was a lecture on "The Day We Celebrate" by the Rev. Father T. E. McGuire, formerly of Louisville, Ky., and of Cleveland, Ohio, but for several months past the assistant pastor at Sts. Peter and Paul church. He began by saying that on this day wherever an Irishman lives, it matters not in what part of the world, his thoughts go back to old Ireland and her people. St. Patrick, he gave a brief sketch of ancient Ireland and her people prior to the arrival of St. Patrick. He told of their high state of civilization, their learning, their high ideals, their knowledge of the sciences, of their art in medicine, etc., and said that while they were pagans they did not worship the lower order of the animal kingdom as did other nations. Irish minds, he said, were more elevated. They worshipped the sun, and the moon, and the stars, and the elements of nature, and the forces of the universe.

Father McGuire told his audience that 900 years before the birth of our Saviour Jesus Christ the Irish Christians held a Feis or Parliament at Tara. There and at that time all the chief men of the nation assembled to select a King. The number of 1,000. They were given a history of the nation with the laws and maxims of their forefathers, and there and then a written constitution was formed by the chief men of the nation.

A special feature of the nation assemblage was the number of 1,000. They were given a history of the nation with the laws and maxims of their forefathers, and there and then a written constitution was formed by the chief men of the nation. The speaker graphically, the speaker sketched the life of Ireland's apostle, and of his work among the people in that sainted land. He told how Irish scholars were the leaders of thought in Europe from the sixth century to the ninth century. He also told how she sent her missionaries to other isles and to the mainland of Europe. Father McGuire said 155 Irish saints were venerated in the churches of Germany, forty-five in France, thirty in Belgium, thirteen in Italy and eight in Scandinavia. He told of the death of St. Patrick and how that apostle had prayed that the Irish people and their descendants would ever preserve the true faith.

After touching upon the characteristics of the Irish race as a whole, Father McGuire said that the Catholics were not alone in striving to bring about justice for Ireland. True Irishmen of the Protestant creeds have suffered martyrdom, exile and ignominy for Ireland's sake. He paid tribute to Robert Emmet, Wolfe Tone, Lord Edward Fitzgerald, Henry Grattan, Thomas Davis and a host of others. The speaker also referred to deeds of valor performed by Irishmen on American battlefields.

In conclusion he told how the Irish and the Germans in America were working side by side for liberty in this country. Both nationalities, he said, love personal liberty and stand for it always against the narrow minded bigotry of a certain class that is always to be found in every community.

At the conclusion of his address Father McGuire received a tremendous ovation. German priests and German laymen in the audience vied with their Irish neighbors in applauding the address.

The A. O. H. is doing noble work here as well as elsewhere. It caused the suppression here of the sale of vulgar and insulting caricatures of St. Patrick in postal cards and green emblems. Local merchants readily consented not to offer such articles for sale when their attention was called. DANIEL MCARTHY.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Spends Lenten Meetings in Discussion of Christian Doctrine.

President Louis J. Kleffer presided over another well attended meeting of Mackin Council Monday night. George Bartlett, Henry Overstage and David Hummel were reported improving. The Executive Committee reported that rehearsals for "Back to Town" were progressing favorably and that both the cast and chorus were making favorable headway.

Considerable favorable discussion arose over the new arrangement of the council's library, and the large list of new magazines recently subscribed for is proving very popular. Members are making good use of the new books. Special committees presented and discussed resolutions on the deaths of Stephen Peak and Edward Putz.

Under the head of Christian doctrine interesting talks were made on the significance of Lent, and the duties of a practical Catholic during that holy season. The questions for next week will be "What is the significance of Ash Wednesday?" "Should St. Patrick's day be observed as a regular day of Lent?" Camden R. McVee will also address the council at its next meeting, and will speak on an interesting subject.

MADAME MODJESKA

Noted Actress Is Very Close to the Border of Eternity.

According to the latest advices Madame Helena Modjeska, one of the greatest actresses of the nineteenth century, is at death's door at her home in Leiden, Holland, and death may have overtaken her before this appears in print. Madame Modjeska, whose name off the stage is Countess Bozenta, is a Polish noblewoman by birth and marriage. She was raised a devout Catholic and always clung consciously to that faith. "She had high ideals for the stage and lived up to them as far as possible.

Madame Modjeska was born in Poland sixty-three years ago, but had appeared in English repertoire in England and America for nearly forty years. She visited Louisville perhaps a dozen times. On one occasion she appeared at Macanley's Theater on Christmas eve, and was due to play in a distant city on the following night. Madame Modjeska would not miss mass on Christmas morning for a chief dozen dollars. Her private car shunted to the Pennsylvania railroad yards, attended 5 o'clock mass at St. Patrick's church, returned to her car in happy frame of mind, and arrived at her destination in time to play her part.

VISITS ROME

Archbishop O'Connell of Boston Made Welcome at Vatican.

The Most Rev. William H. O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, visited the Vatican last Saturday, and received a hearty welcome from the Congregation of the Propaganda. During the audience granted him by Pope Pius X. the Holy Father expressed his high appreciation of American generosity to the Italian earthquake sufferers.

A special to the New York Times also contains the following: Monsignor William O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, is now a favorite at the Vatican. It must be remembered that he was here as Rector of the American College for many years, and that in that period he became acquainted and intimate with most of the prelates who now occupy prominent positions in the Catholic hierarchy, beginning with Merry del Val, Secretary of State, who calls him "dear friend."

The Hotel Regina, where Monsignor O'Connell occupies a magnificent apartment, has become the center of notables of the Vatican world, who are anxious to pay homage to the American prelate who is believed to have a great future before him.

Monsignor O'Connell has in common with all Irishmen a passionate love for music, and this being known, music is not wanting at the Regina, preference being given to the "Bohème" of Puccini, which he likes above any other opera. The Pope, who has a special predilection for the Archbishop of Boston, although not entirely recovered from his recent indisposition, has given order that Monsignor O'Connell shall be brought to him whenever the Archbishop wishes to see him and asked him to pay him frequent visits during his sojourn in Rome.

REVEREND VISITOR.

The Rev. Father S. A. Holleran, pastor of the church at Irvington, Ky., and of the mission at Hardinsburg, was in Louisville on business Tuesday. While in the city he paid a welcome visit to the office of the Kentucky Irish American.

SOLEMN

Part of Lent Begins With the Services Held on Passion Sunday.

Cruelities and Images Veiled in Purple Until Close of Season.

Preparation for Great Events Commemorated During Holy Week.

CELEBRATION IS VERY ANCIENT

Tomorrow will be Passion Sunday, so called because it commemorates the real beginning of the passion of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. It is the Sunday before Palm Sunday, and the Saviour knew that His passion was close at hand; that while the people would hail Him with hosannas a week later, only a few days would intervene before His ignominious death.

Passion Sunday is the beginning of the more solemn part of Lent. The Judica psalm and the Gloria Patri are omitted from the introit of the masses tomorrow and all the cruelties and images have been veiled, not to be uncovered until Holy Saturday. The name Passion Sunday is quite ancient, but there appears to be no ancient author who writes upon the veiling of the images. The most learned authors are of the opinion that the custom is connected with the gospel of the day: "Jesus hid himself and went out of the temple." To Catholics it is the beginning of the end of Lent. They strive with redoubled fervor to follow in the footsteps of the Saviour from Passion Sunday until the close of Lent; they attend more regularly the evening services in their respective parish churches, and whenever possible attend daily the morning Mass, thus keeping in mind the great tragedy of the events leading thereto, the institution of the sacrament of the Eucharist, the treason of Judas, the agony in the garden of Gethsemane, the carriage of the cross, the crucifixion and the crowning of the crown of thorns, the glorious resurrection.

Passion Sunday is a preparation for the following Sunday, which is the beginning of Holy Week. In every Catholic church throughout the world the crucifixes and statues are covered with veils of penitential purple, and the sanctuaries of the Most High take on a sad and somber air.

REAL IGNORANCE

New Yorker Wants Enlightenment as to Legend of St. Patrick.

Even in up-to-date New York, where people are supposed to know almost everything, some one displays inexcusable ignorance by asking the New York Times: "Will the Times please enlighten me as to the legend of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland? Did he actually exist? If so, when and where was he born? Is it true that he drove all the reptiles out of Ireland, or is that merely legendary? When and where did he die?"

To which the New York Times replies: "The perfectly true fact that St. Patrick lived and that the world was made better by his existence. He was one of the greatest of the Christian saints, distinguished for his faith and work as a missionary in the fifth century. For this he was canonized as the apostle of Ireland. As to the exact date and place of St. Patrick's birth the authorities do not agree. The preponderance of opinion, however, is that he was born in Anmer Gaul, about 387 A. D. He was taken a captive to Ireland in boyhood and there tended the herds of his master. After a few years of captivity he made his escape and prepared himself for missionary work. On receiving his mission from Pope Celestine, who saw great promise in the youth, he returned to Ireland and there labored for the Christian church for forty years.

"The story of the expulsion of the reptiles from Ireland by St. Patrick is merely one of the ancient legends—an allegory to signify the triumph of good over evil. He died near Armagh on March 17, 455, at the age of about seventy-eight years. His body was buried at Down in the province of Ulster. His church at Down was destroyed in the reign of Henry VIII, and the few facts of the saint that were not obliterated then were destroyed later by the soldier vandals of Elizabeth or Cromwell."

POLITICIANS GO WEST.

Col. John H. Whallen, Judge Henry W. Prewitt, Chairman of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committee; Attorney W. A. Young, of Morehead, Ky., and Judge D. W. Gardner, all of prominence in the councils of the Democratic party in the State, left for California Wednesday night to attend a month. Col. Whallen is just recovering from a serious illness and his friends hope his Western trip will be of great benefit to him.

EASTER CANDY.

The Catholic Woman's Club is preparing to give a candy pulling at the club house, Walnut street, between Sixth and Seventh, on Easter Monday. The ladies are working hard to make the affair a success.

WHAT'S THE ROW?

The ship-building trusts of Germany and England appear to have those countries where the hair is short, and every Britisher, whether he be Johnny Bull, Sandy or Taffy, has become alarmed and insists on a big increase in the British navy. Is the scare deep rooted, or is it all on the surface? Is Uncle Edward really afraid of Nephew Bill, or have the ship-building trusts worked a scheme to play both ends against the middle? Stranger things have happened.

But between Premier Asquith and Mr. Balfour the English people seem to be very much frightened. The Premier told the House of Commons that he had some secret dope on what the German Government was doing, and his old opponent, Balfour, got busy to secure a greater appropriation for the British navy. Consternation reigned in the House and only those quixotic, emotional, hot-headed, fighting, rampant Irish remained cool. The Irish party in Parliament does not care what happens to England. Many of them would no doubt rejoice if the German navy would sail down the English channel on one side, and up the Irish sea on the other, and fire their projectiles from the bug guns clear across the "light little isle." If the Irish in America can make an alliance with the Germans, what is to prevent an alliance between Germany and the Irish in Ireland. It is just possible that the thought of such an alliance is frightening the Britishers more than the stories of Emperor William's navy.

REAPING AS THEY SOWED.

As a result of the recent national convention in Dublin, William O'Brien and his followers have caused the arrest and police court proceedings against Mr. Devlin, Secretary of the United Irish League, and a number of his followers. Commenting on this phase of affairs the editor of the Dundalk Democrat aptly remarks:

"As for the Police Court proceedings, they have given rise to a feeling of strong resentment against Mr. O'Brien and his intimates amongst a large section of Nationalists. They have undoubtedly to some extent dragged in the mire the National movement in this country; but on the whole we think that it may be as well to have matters of this sort thrashed out publicly and in the light of day. We hold that the whole unpleasant incident might have been avoided by a little moderation and conciliatory spirit on both sides—but that, perhaps, is a spirit for which we need no longer look in Irish politics. Heaven knows we have had little of it in the last twenty years since the unlucky day when some of those who are now most prominent on both sides of the present controversy united in pulling down from his place the only man who in modern times was able to control and direct all sections of the Nationalist party in Ireland."

CARDINAL TO HIBERNIANS.

The Hibernians all over America are to be congratulated on the success attending the various celebrations of St. Patrick's day, and even the daily press of the country appears to have seen a great light at last. But of all the praise and congratulations to the Hibernians none is more appreciated than the address by His Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons. The Hibernians and Ladies' Auxiliaries of Baltimore assembled in their grand old Cathedral on Sunday, March 14, to attend solemn vespers. After that Cardinal Gibbons preached a brief sermon and said in part:

"It is such organizations as the Ancient Order of Hibernians that make better citizens. You begin your deliberations with an appeal to God for light. When the convention which framed the immortal constitution of the United States had striven without accomplishing anything, it was the great statesman, Benjamin Franklin, who arose and said, 'All our labors have been in vain because we have not called for light from on high.' The appeal was made and the convention straightway began its deliberations which wrought forth the immortal constitution. Continue always as you have in the past to undertake all your proceedings under God, and you will move in the light."

WANTED SLAUGHTER.

The killing of a nine-year-old boy at Floyd and Main streets Friday at last week only emphasizes the necessity for stringent regulations on the speed of automobiles through the streets. Scarcely a week passes that someone is not run down and either permanently crippled or killed. If there is an ordinance governing the speed limit it should be enforced. If the Judge of the Police Court refuses to see his duty the murderers of innocent men, women and children ought to be hauled before the grand jury and treated like other criminals. There is no excuse for such wanton slaughter. To make matters worse officials of the fire and police department set a bad example for other auto riders. The time to stop it is now.

RECOGNITION FOR KERENS.

If it is true, as rumored, that Hon. Richard C. Kerens, of Missouri, is to be honored with a foreign embassy, the people of St. Louis, of Missouri, and the Irish-Americans and Catholics of the entire United States will appreciate the compliment paid them by President Taft. The story is, and it bears every mark of authenticity, that Mr. Kerens is to be the Ambassador to Austria. Mr. Kerens is a Republican of long standing and has given his time and means to promote the interests of that party. He has always been a practical Catholic and always an Irish Nationalist, and these two things have helped to make him a better American. Mr. Kerens' family is one of the best educated in the United States. All of his children speak fluently three or four languages, and to send him to the Court of Franz Joseph at Vienna would be appreciated by the Irish Catholics, and his mission would reflect credit on the United States Government.

A. P. AS ARE ENVIOUS.

An editorial in the Milwaukee Citizen says: The United States has built monuments to Columbus, Sheridan, Barry and other Catholics. The A. P. A. have no heroes whom anybody cares to honor, and are therefore envious. The Boston Citizen (A. P. A.) says: "If a cheek is not soon put upon the Irish Romanists this whole country will soon resemble a vast 'Paddy-whack burying ground.' Every week the Irish present to Congress a new petition for money to erect a monument to one of their own kind—the latest being for a sailor named Burke, of Quincy, Mass., whom the priests say—'saved the battleship Georgia.'"

Self-respecting Irishmen to whom the credit of their race is an object of the most solicited interest should place the stamp of their condemnation upon the villainous post cards by which the Irish are being lampooned at the present time.

The Boston Hibernian truthfully says: "It is the Irishman who does something for God, country and himself that is a factor in the progress and upliftment of the race. Action is the thing that counts in these days of activity."

FORTY HOURS' PRAYER.

The Forty Hours' prayer will begin at the late mass at Holy Name church, South Louisville, tomorrow morning, and the church will be appropriately decorated for the occasion. A special musical programme has been arranged, and the pastor, the Rev. Father John T. O'Connor, is pleased with the interest shown by his parishioners. The exercises will be brought to a close on Tuesday morning with a high mass.

ARCHBISHOP IMPROVING.

The condition of Archbishop Messmer, of Milwaukee, who was obliged by ill health to retire from active duties several weeks ago, is reported improving. It is expected he will have entirely recovered before Easter Sunday.

COMING HOME.

It has been unofficially announced that the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey, who has been in Florida for several weeks, will return to Louisville before Holy Week. His Lordship is said to be enjoying excellent health.

COL. DUFFY RETIRES.

Col. Edward Duffy has resigned as head of the famous Sixty-ninth Regiment of New York after a long and brilliant service. He enlisted as a private thirty-five years ago, and during his long service held every office in the regiment. In 1898 he went into the war with Spain and was breveted Brigadier General for meritorious service.

DOMINICAN NUNS.

According to the Dominican Year Book for 1909 there are at present 4,000 Dominican nuns in the United States, divided into twenty-seven distinct congregations.

SOCIETY.

Miss Maude Glenn has left for an extended trip through the East.

Miss Mary Kilgus, of Jeffersonville, is visiting friends in Indianapolis.

Mrs. Ruth Kuster has returned from a visit to Mrs. J. R. Gleason at West Point.

Mrs. Stephen C. Welch, of Beechmont, has gone to Boston to spend the summer.

Miss Esther Fisher, who is visiting at St. Albans, is expected to return home next week.

Miss Margaret Arnold, of the Highlands, is visiting Miss Ruth Schrader, of New Albany.

Mrs. Annie O'Connor has returned to Cincinnati after a pleasant visit to relatives in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hagerty have returned from a visit to Washington, D. C., and other Eastern cities.

Mrs. T. E. Treacy and Patrick King and wife spent several days at West Baden Springs last week.

Mrs. J. H. McConnell, of South Louisville, is spending several weeks with her sisters at Big Clifty.

Mrs. J. J. McCabe, of Springfield, Ky., has returned home after a pleasant visit to friends in this city.

A. C. Scanlan and George Phelps, both of Richmond, Ky., spent Sunday in Louisville as the guests of friends.

Jacob McGrath has returned from Lexington, where he spent several days with old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Mulloy are rejoicing over the arrival of a pretty girl baby at their home, 2211 West Walnut street.

Col. Harry B. Driver and Walter Batelfie have returned from West Baden Springs, where they enjoyed several days.

Miss Ellen Foley, of Pease Valley, who has been seriously ill for five weeks, is able to be out again, to the gratification of her many friends.

Mrs. W. L. Sullivan, of Flora, Mo., is rapidly improving in health since she submitted to an operation for throat trouble.

Harry S. Trinkle, who has been at Terre Haute for the last six months, has arrived in New Albany to spend the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Trinkle.

Mrs. Winifred Hennessy, of 737 East Chestnut street, has recovered from her recent illness, and is able to be out again, much to the gratification of her friends.

Dan J. Hennessy is much elated over the arrival of a pretty baby girl at his home on Heppner avenue. With two boys and a girl both father and mother are pleased.

Miss Louise Tafel, who has been attending school in the East, will spend the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Tafel, Everett and Highland avenues.

William M. Higgins, editor of the Kentucky Irish American, has been confined to his home during the entire week owing to an attack of grip and neuralgia. His condition at the close of the week was improved, and it is hoped that he will soon be able to be out.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kuper announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marie Josephine, to Charles E. Kallenbach. The wedding will be solemnized at St. Elizabeth's church, Floetz and Burnett avenues, at 9 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, April 21. The young people are both popular in the East End. They will begin housekeeping at 1226 Bardstown road about May 1.

THE EMIGRANT.

There is a lass who larks each year,
A dainty, rustic emigrant—
An Irish maid, whose laughter clear Floats on the breeze both far and near,
Who flouts the winter, cold and drear,
This winsome emigrant.

She comes in flaunting robes of green,
This maiden from old Erin's isle—
She soothes the wind's bold, boisterous ulen
And clothes the world in emerald sheen,
And blarney birds and blooms, I ween,
Just with an Irish smile.

She sweeps her harp of wind-blown strings,
Hangs low her crown of violets,
And whispers "Sing of love that clings,
To bogs of green where salt air stings,
And Freedom strives on broken wings—
Alas, and ne'er forgets!

"Sing of the stretch of blue, blue sky—
The moor ablaze with yellow gorse—
The cows low herded to the bye,
Of fireside peace, when night is high,
Of prayers low-breathed with anxious sigh
When ship on billows toss.

"Go croon to Irish ears the lay
Which mothers sing when hearts are sad.
Ah! wishful, wishful is the way,
The old eyes search the path each day—
A lonely path where aged stray,
But seldom maid or lad."

Ah, Irish lass! Take care, take care!
Hush, hush the tender lilt you sing!
The thrall of Erin, green and fair,
Swift binds us e'er we are aware,
Your purple eyes, a homesick snare,
You are, you are the "Spring!"
—Lella Miller Pearce.

PREVENT BISCUITS BURNING.
Sprinkle salt on the bottom of the oven before putting in a pan of cake or biscuits and there will be no danger of burning.

STRICTLY BUSINESS.

Was Meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., Held Last Monday Night.

Division 4, A. O. H., held a very live business meeting last Monday night with President John H. Hennessy in the chair. The attendance was large and all the members were full of enthusiasm. The Rev. Father Christmas, O. P., opened the meeting with prayer. Applications from Michael T. Gilmore and Thomas Garrett were received, and Henry Maloney and Adam Emmetsburger were elected, and the latter obligated.

John Martin, James Lyons and Eugene Sullivan were reported on the sick list. Attorney Newton G. Rogers reported on the Catholic Federation and made the announcement that the National Federation of Catholic Societies would meet at Pittsburgh on August 8 and 9. He also declared that the National Federation was working against indecent posters. President Hennessy named the following Federation Committee for 1909: Newton G. Rogers, William A. Perry and Michael McDermott. It was announced that Attorney Newton G. Rogers would deliver an interesting address at the last meeting in April.

William P. McDonough, John Wynn and the Rev. Father Christmas, O. P., were named on a committee to draft resolutions on the deaths of William Reardon, a late member of the division, and Capt. John O'Daly, father of Thomas O'Daly, an esteemed member of the division.

NEW GROCERY FIRM.

John and Michael Moriarty, two popular young men of the Dominican parish, have embarked in the grocery business under the firm name of Moriarty Bros., at the southeast corner of Sixth and Kentucky streets. They threw open their doors to the public today. They will carry a new and complete stock of groceries, canned goods, fresh meats and vegetables. Both young men have had long experience in the grocery business and ought to do well.

SAD WORDS.

Fitted to a Rollicking Irish Dance Air That is Popular.

Readers of Charles Lever's famous novel, "Charles O'Malley," will remember that one of the popular dancing tunes frequently mentioned by the author is "The Wind that Shakes the Barley." The words to the air are found in old Irish song books, but few young Irish-Americans are familiar with them. Here they are:

I sat within the valley green,
I sat with my true love;
My sad heart strove the two between,
The old love and the new love;
The old for her, the new that made Me think on Ireland dearly,
While soft the wind blew down the glade,
And shook the golden barley.

While and I kissed away her tears,
My fond arms around her flinging,
The foe's hand burst on our ears,
From out the wildwood ringing;
The bullet pierced my true love's side,
In life's young spring so early,
And on my breast in blood she died,
When soft winds shook the barley.

But blood for blood without remorse
I've t'ne at Oulart Hollow;
I've placed my true love's clay-cold corpse
Where I full soon will follow:
And round her grave I wander drear,
Noon, night and morning early,
With breaking heart where'er I hear
The wind that shakes the barley!

FANCIES OF FASHION.

Jet turbans are flourishing.
Few braves now wear the face veil.
A few straw hats have made their appearance.
There is a hint of revolt against the empire style.
The shawls of sixty years ago are again in good style.
Strings are being worn on hats and tied under the chin.
The prestige of satin faced materials continues unabated.

Newest hats are being extensively trimmed on the right side.
Cotton velvets are much used for tailor made suits just now.
Satin hats, trimmed with fur, are having a considerable vogue.
Shirred gauze or satin is playing a leading part in the new hats.
Pale pastel blue is beautiful with the new shade known as wistaria.

The princess remains the favorite model for fine robes, as well as coat costumes.
Embroidered and braided materials that require handwork have a great popularity.

The new Chinese cotton crepes of filmy texture are used for dainty white frocks.
The silk manufacturers are doing their best to bring broadcades into broad and general use.

Paris says that gumpes and sleeves for next spring will be made of embroidered tulle.
The newest straw hats have brims not over two inches wide, and some of them have no brims at all.

White cotton marquisette, sprinkled with dots, is one of the most effective of the spring materials.
Paris has a new skirt known as the "reasonable" skirt. The back is furnished with two plaits, which give a certain fullness where it is most needed.

CAN'T KNOT.

Knot your throat at the same end you break it off your spool and you will find it will not knot while sewing.

EUCARISTIC LEAGUE.

The next meeting of the International Eucharistic League will be held in the Cathedral of Cologne, Germany, early in August of this year. Cardinal Fischer is Chairman of the committee making the arrangements.

BRANCH 6 TO CELEBRATE.

Branch 6, C. K. of A., will celebrate its anniversary by attending mass and receiving holy communion at St. Martin's church at 7 o'clock on Palm Sunday, April 4. This is one of the oldest branches of the order in the city and Nation, and a full attendance is expected at the anniversary services.

PREPARE FOR DEDICATION.

The people of St. Mary's of the Knobs parish, six miles north of New Albany, are preparing for a gala event when the new and handsome church is dedicated on May 16. The Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Auxiliary Bishop of the Indianapolis diocese, will officiate and will be assisted by many of the dignitaries of the church in Southern Indiana.

LEXINGTON LADY DEAD.

Mrs. Mary Kelly, one of the best and most favorably known Catholic ladies of Lexington, Ky., died at St. Joseph's Hospital in that city last Saturday, and the funeral took place from St. Paul's church Monday morning. The deceased is survived by her husband, John M. Kelly, a merchant and member of the Lexington School Board, and the following sons: Frank, Harry T., Charles M. and William Kelly. The deceased was a native of Lombrun county, and prior to her marriage was Miss Mary Galvin.

WASHING DRESSES.

If the good housewives will get five cents' worth of soap bark at the drugist's and make a suds, using no soap, the goods, no matter how soiled, they may be will look like new. Pour hot water on the bark, let stand till soapy, drain in tub of warm water, wash and rinse; have tried it and know it is fine.

GOOD NEWS FROM MORAN.

Constable Thomas P. Moran, who was shot by an irate woman while in the discharge of his official duties about four weeks ago, is much improved. He has so far recovered that he was able to leave St. Mary and Elizabeth's Hospital Wednesday, and is now recuperating at the home of his parents, 1132 Zane street.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES.

The Louisville Steam Engineers will hold memorial services at the Methodist Temple, Sixth and Broadway, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Hon. R. W. Bingham, former Mayor of Louisville, will deliver the principal address. The general public is invited to be present.

LONDON'S CATHEDRAL.

According to an official report just issued, there has been expended on the great new Westminster Cathedral of London, England, the sum of $1,175,000, this in addition to the cost of the site, which ran into many thousands. It is expected that more than $1,000,000 will be spent on the embellishment of the sanctuary, the nave, aisles, etc. The drawings and other decorative designs for the entire scheme of decoration are on hand, having been executed before his death by the great architect, John Francis Bentley.

POTATO FRITTERS.

Soft boil four good size potatoes. When cold, mash through a sieve, add two eggs, two tablespoonsful of flour, one teaspoon baking powder; pinch of salt and a dash of pepper. Mix well; add enough sweet milk to make a thin drop batter. Fry table-spoonfuls in plenty of hot lard.

SOUR MILK BISCUIT.

One quart of flour sifted with one teaspoonful of baking soda and one teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of sugar; then add two tablespoons good lard or drippings; rub all together with the hands, then add sour milk to make a stiff batch. Roll out thin, bake in a hot oven. Serve while hot with honey or maple syrup. Very good.

BORAX FOR THE BATH.

Borax added to the bath in a sufficient quantity to make the water feel silky will make the skin lustrous. Borax was used by the beauties of Egypt, whose beauty secrets are handed down to us as superior to our own. It would not be advisable to use it in the daily bath. In fact once a week is often enough. If it does not agree with the skin it should be stopped at once. Borax will make the skin white and soft if it is used sensibly.

RECENT DEATHS.

August Moellman, a respected member of St. Boniface's congregation, died at his home, corner Hancock and Madison streets, on Saturday evening. The funeral took place from St. Boniface's church Tuesday morning and was largely attended.

Mrs. Sarah Cronin, widow of Joseph Cronin, and sixty-five years old, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. John B. Miller, 2116
Olmstead avenue, Wednesday morning. The funeral took place from St. Joseph's church yesterday morning.

Frank Dangler, eighty-seven years old, and a resident of the East End for more than forty years, died at his home, 940 Goss avenue, Tuesday afternoon. The deceased was a native of Germany, but had worked at the shoemaking trade in Louisville for sixty years. His funeral took place from St. Vincent de Paul church yesterday morning.

The funeral of little Patrick Henley, the thirteen-year-old son of Thomas Henley, book-keeper for the National Foundry and Machine Company, took place from St. Cecilia's church on Sunday afternoon. The child had suffered from Bright's disease for several months, and died at the family residence, 337 North Twenty-sixth street, on Friday morning. Much sympathy has been expressed to the bereaved father and brothers and sisters of the dead boy.

Frank J. Maguire, a prominent member of Holy Name Parish, was stricken with apoplexy at his home, 2418 Fourth Avenue, Wednesday evening and died before medical assistance arrived. The deceased was for many years employed as a cooper by the Standard Oil Company.
He is survived by his widow and twelve children. The funeral arrangements had not been completed at the hour of going to press. Mr.
Maguire was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Mrs. Mary Whitty, seventy-six years old, and for many years a resident of the Dominican parish, died at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth's Hospital Tuesday morning. Death resulted from the ailments usually attendant upon old age. The remains were removed to the family residence, 812 West St. Catherine street, where they rested until the funeral took place from St. Louis Bertrand's church Thursday morning. Two sons, Frank and John Whitty, survive the deceased.

Mrs. Christina Hoffman, wife of John D. Hoffman, a retired grocer, died a victim of the infirmities of old age at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Dolle, 729 East Breckinridge street, early Tuesday morning.
The deceased was a native of Germany and had been a resident of Louisville for thirty-eight years. Only a week ago she celebrated the seventy-sixth anniversary of her birth.
Her husband and six children survive her. The children are Mesdames John Dolle, Frank Kroeger, Peter Herburger, William Stober and Messrs. John and Fred Hoffman. The funeral took place from St. Martin's church Thursday morning and was very largely attended.

One of the best known and most highly esteemed German-American citizens of Louisville died in the person of Henry F. Kersting, the jeweler, last Saturday morning. Although he had been in failing health for several years, Mr. Kersting did not take to his bed until six weeks ago. He felt that he was going to die and entered eternity with the fortitude of a Christian soldier. The deceased was born in Germany fifty-three years ago, but had spent a quarter of a century in Louisville. He was not only a dealer in jewelry but a manufacturer and expert at his business. His widow, who resides at 2108 West Market street, and the following children survive: Henry, Bernard, Albert and Joseph Kersting and Mrs. Charles H. Bush, Misses Clara, Marie, Emma, Agnes and Catherine. Kersting's funeral took place from St. Anthony's church on Tuesday morning.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

It is easy to expect others to set good examples.
Despair is the undertaker that carries off our dead hopes.
Occasionally a man rises from nothing to something worse.
Prodigals have always exceeded the supply of fatted calves.
It doesn't require much practice to acquire the art of being lazy.
Many a man who takes himself seriously is looked upon as a joke by others.
Imagination is responsible for half of our troubles, and our fool actions are responsible for the other half.
When a wise man bestows a favor he immediately forgets it. When a fool receives a favor he does likewise.

RICH CORN BREAD.

One cup yellow corn meal sifted, two cups of sour milk, one teaspoonful of molasses, one teaspoonful of baking soda stirred in milk, two eggs beaten light. Grease pan on bottom and side with heaping tablespoonful of lard. Set pan in oven until lard is melted thin. Put a tablespoonful of lard in the batter and pour batter in hot pan and bake forty-five minutes.

MUST LEARN IRISH.

By the end of 1919 every employe of the Wicklow Steam Trainway Company, whether his name is Smith, McPherson or O'Flaherty, will have to show himself thoroughly acquainted with the Irish language, for after ten years at printing and office transactions on this line will be conducted in Irish, to the exclusion of the language of the Saxon.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

He who has no faith in himself is destined to become a successful failure.
The brave and fearless man manages to get there early and thus avoid the rush.
A wise man doesn't attempt to pull himself out of trouble with a corkscrew.
If a man is unable to stand prosperity he should sit down and give his wife a chance.

MACAULEY'S THEATER.
Dr. Edmund Day's "The Round Up" will be presented by a competent company at Macauley's Theater all of next week with the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.
Maelyn Arbuckle will head the cast.
It has been praised highly by Eastern critics, and will no doubt attract great crowds in Louisville.

HOPKINS' THEATER.

Motion pictures continue to attract large crowds to Hopkins' Theater, every afternoon and evening, and management has no cause to kick about hard times. Manager Austin has secured new and excellent films for next week, with the usual semi-weekly changes. Comedy features will be brighter than ever.

MASONIC THEATER.

The fight between Burns and Johnson in Australia for the championship of the world, which attracted such widespread attention among lovers of the manly art, will be repeated next week at the Masonic in the form of moving pictures. The pictures will be shown at a matinee daily and each evening during the week. The films are of the kind which it is a pleasure to follow, and the innovation doubtless will prove popular. In fact it means the bringing of this great fight, in which Johnson won the belt, right to the doors of every Louisvillian.

GREATEST
Peril to the British Ministry Is Ireland at the Present.

Trouble for the Cabinet Always Means Concessions to the Irish.

Weekly Letter from T. P. O'Connor Tells of Latest O'Brien Move.

BIRRELL IS A SENSATIVE MAN.

Ireland is becoming over again a great peril to the British Ministry, writes T. P. O'Connor in his letter to the Chicago Tribune of last Sunday.
This, he says, is not because the Ministry as a whole is unfriendly to Ireland, nor Ireland to the Ministry, because Ireland expects from it the Birrell bill, a measure which will largely help to accelerate the transfer of Irish land from the landlord to the tenant. Indeed after long deliberation the Irish party resolved to save the Liberal members at the recent by-elections. But there is always an impossible situation in Ireland, especially when a Liberal Ministry is in office. On the one hand there is the desire of the Irish members to get out of the Ministry as many good measures for Ireland as they can, and at no period of Irish history has a party got so many of these pledges as during the last three years. But on the other hand Ireland is always restive, always eager, always longing for the day when the rule of Ireland by England and English opinion will be succeeded by the rule of Ireland by a native legislature.

The horrible gospel has been burned into the grain of Ireland that she never gets anything from an English Ministry or Parliament unless she makes herself troublesome, and the Liberal Landlords who are in the present Ministry and who are responsible for the miserable restrictions and limitation of the Irish councils bill have done a good deal to intensify that impression, for their miserable vacillation and un-steadiness in that bill were largely the results of their idea that Ireland was so quiet she could be so disregarded.

Finally the disappointment of the promises of Wyndham and the Wyndham act that the land system should be broken up and the lands divided among the small farmers has aggravated the situation and produced boycotting, cattle driving and all the other disturbances.
Here is the paradoxical situation, Birrell wants to do all he can to benefit Ireland, and the Irish members want to do all they can to facilitate his task. But the Irish people, impatient, restive, disappointed, take things into their own hands and disturbance reigns here and there throughout the country. Disturbance but no crime. Birrell has to take proceedings when men are caught in these disturbances, and the Irish members, resenting these things, have to attack him in the House of Commons, and thus the unfortunate Chief Secretary is subjected to a crossfire: to a fire from his open enemies on the Ulster Orange side and a fire from those whom he would wish to befriend, the representatives of Ireland. He is a sensitive man, and he has his moments of despondency, though he does not avow them, and he is more than ever convinced, and says so whenever he addresses an audience in England, that the only cure for the impossible situation is to land over the government of Ireland and the preservation of order there to her own people.

With all these adverse forces, it is probable that this session will prove trying if not disastrous to the Ministry. But they will probably try to live through it, and they may succeed in doing so.

In Ireland, says Mr. O'Connor, Redmond has been forced to take open action against O'Brien's latest attempt to produce a new organization and he tells the Irish people plainly to choose between him and O'Brien, between the Irish party and the party composed of a combination of O'Brien and the landlords; between O'Brien's new organization and the United Irish League; between unity and a new split. O'Brien's campaign opens tomorrow under this deadly blow from Redmond, and probably this decisive and timely blow of Redmond is the beginning and end of O'Brien's infatuated attempt to disrupt Ireland. The Irish party meets next Tuesday and will call upon every member to refuse to join O'Brien's new league and thus give the choice to the small body of O'Brienites either to accept the party decision or leave the party.

TRINITY COUNCIL
Prepares for Several Big Events After Lenten Season.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., held a rousing meeting Monday night, and the new club house was filled with enthusiastic members. President James B. Kelly presided, two new members were initiated and six applications were received. It was decided to give a dance at the club house on Easter Monday night, and Joseph Bell was appointed Chairman of a committee to make the necessary arrangements. It was also decided to give a mammoth supper on the night of April 21, and Andrew M. Kieffer was placed at the head of the committee to prepare for that event.
As a literary feature Andrew M.
Kieffer made an interesting talk on the "Life of an Old Bachelor," and related many humorous instances of life in boarding houses. The address was amusing and entertaining and was frequently punctuated with applause.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

There will be no meeting of Division 1 before April 6.

Division 2 will hold its regular meeting next Thursday night.

President Ford wants a big meeting of Division 2 next Friday night.

Division 1 certainly has a hustling committee on its Easter Tuesday ball work.

Juvenile divisions are expected to be plentiful in the New England States next year.

The Jamaica Plain division expects to own its own home within a year if present plans are carried out.

A new branch of the Ladies' Auxiliary has been organized at Virginia, Minn. It has a charter membership of twenty-five.

The Ladies' Auxiliary expect to have a rousing meeting on April 7, when reports on preparations for the ball will be made.

Nashua, N. H., has a degree team that is said to be one of the best in New England. It will soon visit Manchester to exemplify the degrees on a large class.

Boston Hibernians will hold their annual memorial services at Holy Cross Cathedral on Monday morning, April 19. The main feature will be a solemn mass of requiem.

Members of the order in Washington, D. C., eclipsed all others in celebrating Robert Emmet's birthday, and the Presidents of twenty-one German societies were in attendance.

During the past forty years Division 1 of Bridgeport, Conn., has raised $31,505, and of this $10,100 has been expended in six benefits, $3,150 in other charities and $14,173 for other purposes.

National President Matthew Cummings and State Chaplain Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell, of Massachusetts, will sail for Ireland on April 3 in an effort to bring about an amalgamation of the order in Ireland and the United States.

The various divisions of Boston and Suffolk county, Massachusetts, are preparing to hold a field day, and expect to raise funds enough to send their entire quota to the next national convention at Portland, Ore.

Division 8, Ladies' Auxiliary of Syracuse, N. Y., is striving hard for a big increase in membership.

The contract for the monument to be erected at Gross Isle in memory of the Irish emigrants who died of famine and fever in 1848 and were buried there has been awarded to an Ottawa firm. The plans call for a cross forty-six feet six inches high with a base of fifteen feet six inches. The arms of the Celtic cross will be ten feet long. On the position it is to be erected it will reach 100 feet from the river.

MOVING FORWARD

Chickasaw Council Getting Into Front of Y. M. I. Hustlers.

(Chickasaw Council, Y. M. I. of Memphis, Tenn., is growing to be one of the largest and most influential councils in the Kentucky jurisdiction, and as the result of the membership campaign recently closed it has close to 250 names on its rolls. For services rendered the council met last week and surprised Past President George A. Lawo with a certificate of life membership. Mr. Lawo bore his honours modestly, but promised to work as hard for the council in future as it has in the past.

Chickasaw Council has organized a first class ball team, and Manager Buell expects to see his men win many victories during the coming season. He expects, if the plan is feasible, to arrange a series of games with the teams from Santa Council at Owensboro and the Louisville councils.

FIRST ACROSS BRIDGE.

A dispatch from New York says: A delegation from the Ancient Order of Hibernians, headed by County President Thomas Kelly, obtained permission last Monday from the department of bridges for the members of the order resident in Queens to march across the Queensboro Bridge on the morning of St. Patrick's day to join the Manhattan and Brooklyn branches for the parade. The bridge is about completed, the chief lock at present being in the way of lighting, and it is expected that the bridge will be opened for general traffic within about two weeks, although the official opening does not come until June 12. The Queens Ancient Order men marched across the bridge about 1,000 strong under the command of their County President, Peter J. McGarry, and were met at the Manhattan end of the bridge by County President Thomas Kelly and a delegation from the New York branches, who escorted the men of Queens to the starting point of the parade at Forty-second Street and Fifth avenue.

GOVERNOR'S WIFE BETTER.

Mrs. Augustus E. Wilson, who suffered a broken arm and sustained ugly bruises as the result of a runaway accident two weeks ago, is improving as rapidly as possible in the executive mansion at Frankfort. Her host of friends in Louisville and throughout the State are glad to hear of her improvement. Although the accident happened a fortnight ago it was not until Monday of this week that the Governor suffered any ill effects. The he complained of pains in one of his legs and was compelled to remain in the Executive Mansion for several days. His illness is not of a serious nature.

OWES TITLE TO PRIEST.

A note in the Catholic Universe declares that a Catholic priest has been first to give the title of Father of His Country to George Washington. It quotes from the Pennsylvania Gazette of February 22, 1800, these words: "Father Carr has given Gen. George Washington a name that will live forever. The Father of His Country."

The Leitrim County Council has entered a strong protest against the extra police tax being imposed on the ratepayers of the county.

Deep regret is felt in the archdiocese of Armagh over the death of the Rev. Father Peter Murtugh. He had labored in Dundalk for several years.

It is reported that the steam sawmill at Carrick-on-Suir, which has been closed for some time, will soon be re-opened. It will give employment to 200 men.

Robert Williamson, an ex-British soldier, was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment for breaking a window in the Catholic chapel at Cooneen, County Fermanagh.

Lugh Mullen, a farmer of the County Louth, was accidentally drowned in a bog hole near Aughaiduff, and the Coroner after hearing all the evidence returned a verdict to that effect.

Human crosses of white marble have been erected in St. Patrick's churchyard at Dunmurry, County Cork, as monuments to the memory of the Rev. Canon Lane and the Rev. James Bradley.

At Rathdowney Petty Sessions, Queens county, charges against eight men for unlawful assembly, riots and assaults on the police last June were all dismissed at the request of the District Inspector.

The skeleton of a man was found in a lane near Nans, County Kildare, by men engaged in digging a sewer. It is believed that the bones are those of a victim of the cholera plague more than sixty years ago.

Rev. Fathers Charles Flynn, of Killybeg, and P. J. Manly, Carrick-on-Shannon, County Leitrim, have been appointed to represent the county on the Irish Council of Agriculture and Technical Instruction.

The body of an unknown man, apparently about fifty years of age, was found floating in the River Lee, near Marina, County Cork. A memorandum in his pocket bore the name of Daniel Barrett, but his identity has not been established.

The twelve men from Binnmoghlish, County Roscommon, sentenced by Judge Kenny at the last (connaught assizes to three months' imprisonment, have been released. An immense crowd met the men at the Roscommon railway station, and the men were escorted home to the noise of fifes, drums and horns.

His Eminence Cardinal Logue has made the following changes in the archdiocese of Armagh: Rev. Father Michael Mackie, Upper Killeeney, to Killesno, to replace the Rev. Father Fox, recently deceased, and Rev. Father Peter Sheerin, of Armagh, to Upper Croghan to replace the Very Rev. Canon McGeeny, recently deceased.

ANOTHER HUMBBUG

German Promoters Eager After American Dollars.

The new Royal Astronomical Museum at Treptow, near Berlin, Germany, is to be thrown open on April 4, and the natives are striving in every way to attract American dollars by means of advertising. The latest trick is the announcement that a relic of Christopher Columbus' original voyage is to be among the treasures unveiled.

It consists of a tablet with calculations of planets which Columbus used throughout his voyage across the unknown seas. The tablet was compiled by a German astronomer named Königsberg or, as he called himself in accordance with the nomenclature of the period, Regiomontanus. Columbus found the tablet of inestimable value, and the Treptow Museum ranks it among its most cherished possessions. At night the tablet will be kept in a specially built fire and burglar proof safe.

Sensible Americans will save their dollars if they remember that Columbus had no thought of discovering America and that even at the close of his life he was not aware of the existence of the American mainland.

CATHOLIC FORESTERS.

St. Anthony's Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, will give a banquet and smoker at St. Anthony's Hall, Twenty-third and Market streets, at 8 o'clock on the evening of Easter Monday. The members of all the courts in Louisville are invited to be present. Ways and means for promoting the advancement of the order in Louisville will be discussed.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE.

The Young Men's Democratic Club of the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth precincts of the Fourth and Fifth wards has been organized and will meet in the vacant church, Brook street, near Breckinridge, Monday night to elect officers. All young Democrats are urged to be present.

MOTION PICTURES.

The Princess Amusement Company presented another good bill in each of its houses this week, and as a consequence the Casino, Columbia and Princess theaters were crowded every afternoon and evening. Each of these theaters present first run films. Next week the management promises more attractive features than ever. The cameraphone is still drawing crowds to the Princess.
